

Carl F. Greene
Hampton, Virginia

Inducted in 1978, Carl F. Greene was one of the first research scientists assigned to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (later NASA) at Langley Field, Virginia. Under his direction, NACA initiated airplane cabin pressurization and tricycle landing gear tests during the 1930s at Langley Field , Va.