

Everett M. Noel
Fredericksburg, Virginia

Inducted in 1989, Everett M. Noel served as manager of Shannon Airport in Fredericksburg, VA where he had been flying since 1943. He later went on to become chief pilot for Northern Virginia's Colgan Airways. After his retirement from Colgan Airways, Noel was appointed General Manager of Dulles Aviation. He retired in 1987 after logging over 20,000 accident free hours as a pilot. As a Federal Aviation Administration designated examiner, he was responsible for licensing more private and commercial pilots than any other examiner in Virginia.
